Go online as East Carolina University, in partnership with the National Housing Endowment (the philanthropic arm of the National Association of Home Builders), presents an informative discussion called "The Future of Residential Construction."

This special event kicks off the Building Communities series, which offers online audiences valuable information in a variety of ways:

- Live, moderated sessions with the nation's leading industry experts
- Selected questions from audience members
- Seminar archives with organized content
- Links to industry-related programs and organizations

Special guest Timothy Eller is chairman and CEO of Centex Corporation, a Fortune 250 company and one of the nation's premier providers of building and related services. He has worked with Centex since 1973.

Tomorrow starts here.
